Remembering Bob Coats

Bob at the Virginia State Police Museum in Richmond posing beside a picture of him in his younger days with his beloved K-9 partner Baron.

By Gene Campbell

When I got the news last Friday morning Bob Coats passed away it was not totally unexpected. Bob's health had deteriorated shortly after he and his wife Pat arrived in Florida in December for their annual winter vacation. Bob had beaten cancer several years ago but "old father time" had caught up with him after some complications from a gall bladder operation.

For those of us who gather at the corner (Valero's at Central Garage) or the "Liars Club" as Bob called it for coffee in the mornings... it will never be the same. You see, Bob was a fixture there in the mornings. He was always smiling, quick with his wit and quick to let you know what he thought of the news of the day. Bob would also on occasions share his cooking skills with us.... he made a pound cake that would melt in your mouth. I can personally attest to that !!

Bob was a former state trooper. He also dabbled in politics, running for the Virginia House of Delegates in the 1970's. His love for serving and helping his fellow man was well known as he was always ready to donate to causes to improve the community. He was instrumental in forming the local Mattaponi Crime Solvers Chapter. As a long time member of the King William Ruritan Club, Bob was very generous in donating to the construction and improvement of our club's facilities on Rt 30. It was Bob's idea and hard work that made our First Annual National Night Out three years ago a huge success. With Bob's passing the club has lost four dedicated and long time members in the past year, including Frankie Townsend, William Barber and Herb White.

The last time I saw Bob he was walking out of the "Liars Club" with Hope, his German Shepherd, by his side heading to Florida. There will never be another Bob Coats. Have some pound cake ready when we meet again Bob !!

Publisher's Message

We know February can be un-predictable. One day it might be in the sixties and sunny, the next day snow or sleet and in the thirties. The earth is slowly turning toward spring and summer. The ground has not had a chance to dry out. It won't be too much longer before this winter will be a memory. I have enjoyed sitting by a nice warm fire on the really cold days and nights. I am looking forward to riding my Harley Davidson with some friends as soon as the weather warms up some. Everything in its time. Spring will be here in 28 days. Be patient and enjoy each and every day.

Gates?

By Allen Brintley and "Pip"

We have been getting a lot of rain and even some sleet and ice lately. It slowed things down for a little bit but then the temperatures rose and it all melted quickly. That's the best kind of sleet or snow, sort of like family visiting. You're happy to see them, as long as they don't overstay their welcome.

I was at the hardware store the other day and this nice lady and I were discussing horses and mules. She asked about Pip and what kind of mule she was. I told her that she was a Tennessee walking mule. Pip's mom was a registered Tennessee walking horse and her dad was a smooth riding Jack. She asked "Well how many gates does she have?" I thought for a minute and said "Five." She asked "How many of them are smooth?" I said "All of them." She asked me to explain. I said "There are 2 metal gates in the lower pasture and 2 metal gates in the upper pasture and then there's a wooden gate that's beside the barn. That makes five." She laughed and said "I meant g-a-i-t not gate. A gait is a way of moving sort of like how many speeds." I thought "Here we go again. I'm confused with this horse language stuff." I said "Let me list them. There's the walk, which is like first gear. Then there's this little running walk or shuffle which is pretty smooth. There's the gallop. Then there's the run. And last is w.o. which is like overdrive. That makes five gaits." She looked at me confused and said "I understand them all but the last one. What is w.o.?" I said "W.O. is wide open!" We both had a good laugh.

You can email me at Allen@twinriversrealty.com or call 690-7870. I'll see you on the trails.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Solar Panels Concern Citizens of King and Queen county

Dominion Energy and Walnut Solar Co. are planning a huge solar development in King and Queen County in the Cologne area. Their plans are to use 1,700 acres for their project. If this becomes a reality, it will definitely effect wildlife, recreational use and the loss of significant farmland. Not to mention changing our rural atmosphere and the aesthetics of our rural surroundings of this community.

Much of the power they generate is to be used to supply some of the hi-tech companies moving into Virginia.

Of the 1,700 acres, 20 individuals have been offered leases on their property but none have to live with resulting views and the ongoing construction of this development.

Fellow citizens this is a complete disregard for others lifestyles in the community. It concerned, please contact your representatives on the planning commission and the board of supervisors in your district. This project lowers the value of this community aesthetics and property values of all who desire a rural lifestyle.

Yes, solar panels are stationary, noiseless, odorless and quite sterile but what happens to the wildlife and amber waves of grain?

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Watch what they do...not what they say

We often listen to Pols cite the "gouging" we poor rubes are being subjected to. Members of Congress & our state legislative bodies, (even local Pols get in on the game) tell us that big banks, big insurance companies, big brokerage firms, big pharmaceutical companies, big this or that are gouging us...and by golly the Pols are going to do something about it. Absent our Pols intervention, we would just be bowled over by these institutions cheating us at every turn.

What they don't talk about is the "gouging they do themselves". No better example of this is what we have happening right here in King William County. A theft of epic proportions is taking place right in front of us. Case in point.

Local governments need a reserve fund for a time when the economy contracts and the local government needs funds to continue operating. This fund is supposed to be for the purpose of paying the ongoing routine costs of local government. More on that point in a minute.

In 2012 the K.W Reserve Fund stood at a reasonable 3.2 million. The recommendation of the Government Financial Officers Association states that a localities reserve fund range should be between 5%---15% of its annual expenditures. That would put the appropriate number somewhere between the range of 1.5 million to a high end (15%) of 4.5 million.

Today that Reserve Fund sits at 10.9 million That number is published in 4 county government documents, in spite of their current efforts to manipulate that number, and why?...Because they know the citizens of King William are aware of this "gouging", and are beginning to ask questions, lots of questions.

The first question--why is it so high, why hasn't the Board of Supervisors lowered the outrageous real estate tax rate to a level commensurate with surrounding localities. A reminder that even VaCo says the average county real property tax rate is .67..and King William sits at .88, a stunning 32% higher than the Virginia County average.

What are they planning on doing with this money that has piled up as a result of their "gouging homeowners for the last 10 years"? They are getting ready to spend a truck load of it on private commercial developments under the guise of "targeted economic development". If you remember the vaunted Natural Gas Pipeline that Virginia Tax payers coughed up 10 million for in 2010, the project that was going to "open up development down Route 360, benefitting all of us" 9 years later and just where is all of that benefit we were promised?

The K.W Board of Supervisors have been gouging homeowners, and they are getting ready to hand it over to their crony developer pals. Yes, it is that simple folks.

Dear Editor,

Citizens of King William; Read and heed ; history repeating itself right here in King William. Observe the BoS.

Democracy has no convictions for which people would be willing to stake their lives. That is Hitler's fundamental discovery, and it forms the starting-point for his great and daring policies, which will always prove to be right. Fear and personal advantage will in every case, sooner or later, lead to capitulation.

In every country there are all the people we shall need to set in motion any desired movement in any level of society or education [or government-added]. Once a beginning has been made, the rest will follow of its own accord.

Lack of conviction always results in defeatism: Resistance is useless.

Dear Editor,

KW needs better telecom service but...

On Feb 25th at the next KW Board of Supervisors meeting, they're expected to consider a release for Comcast from their thirty year old contract without penalty and let Atlantic Broadband start a new franchise.

This by just transferring the contract and requirements over to Atlantic. But Atlantic representatives indicated that they want no part of the existing Community Television System Franchise Ordinance of May 26, 1988 that calls for full service to residents, government, schools, and more.

While many in our county will agree that better service is much needed, careful consideration is required for a number of known and unknown factors lurking in the proposed switch.

One of the items that should at the top of the list of concerns is that Comcast might owe KW taxpayers untold thousands of dollars based on contract terms.

Also, just what's in the deal for Atlantic and how will a switch affect TV, internet and phone service for KW's residents -- for better or worse?

A rush by the BoS to quickly seal the deal without time for careful consideration by legal counsel and full transparency to the public is unacceptable.

So, what can we expect from this current Board at the next meeting on February 25th ?

To just let Comcast run out and Atlantic waltz in without citizens having a chance to weigh in ?

Sincerely,
Robert "Sarge" Bruce

Experiencing the Thrill of Victory

The thrill of making the shot !!

By Gene Campbell

Everyone one has dreamed of making the winning shot in a basketball game with the roar of the crowd in the background. At King William High School on Friday, February 8th, students with special needs lived out their dreams as they competed with their fellow students at Lee Davis and Atlee High School in an All Star basketball league game. King William is now competing in the All Star basketball league composed of nearby schools that aims to be inclusive of all students. Ms. Lumpkin, a special education teacher at King William, helped organize the game and program. Coach Walker volunteered to coach the team.

KWHS principal Corey McConville stated, "I am so proud to be principal of a school with the most amazing student body around. The players, teachers, students, pep band and cheerleaders all made for a very special day. This will be the first of many All Star basketball games to come to King William."

KWHS Cavs - Girls Rule !!

Heads above the rest.....Lady Cav Allie Patterson #20 shoots two in the lane

By Gene Campbell

The King William Girls basketball team left little doubt who was going to win in their regional playoff game against Randolph-Henry High School of Charlotte Courthouse Friday night at King William.

The Lady Cavs jumped out to a 6 - 1 start and went into the locker room at the half leading 25 - 15. The second half was all Lady Cavs as they defeated the Statesmen 50 - 21 improving their record to 15 - 7 overall. Next up in the regional playoffs will be Amelia High School. GO LADY CAVS!!

The Boys Varsity team who played the Nandua Warriors from the Eastern Shore in regional play immediately after the girls game did not fare as well. Despite a valiant effort in a game that saw the lead change several times, the Cavaliers came up short as they lost 57 - 53 ending their season.
