Roma's 110 Pizza Giveaway

The Roma's crew handing out the 110th Free Pizza

By Armistead Saffer

On Wednesday May 20th Roma's gave away 110 Free Pizzas to people who stopped by. In an effort to give back to the community, Roma Ristorante Italiano teamed up with Lee's Affordable Tree Service, and T-Town Tack Work & Western Wear to show their appreciation to the King William community by giving away free pizzas.

By 3:00 pm there was a line of cars waiting for the festivities to begin. Members of the King William Sheriff's office were on hand to direct traffic so that it didn't interfere with local business and the surrounding roads. The pizza giveaway went smoothly.

In this time of financial hardships, outlets for free food to the community are welcome. On Saturday, May 16th, King William citizens could go to pickup sites at Broadus/Hebron Church, Colosse Baptist Church, Mount Olive Baptist, Fixed Ministry, and West Point Fire Department to get free food items.

King William resident Rev. Douglas Riley, the pastor of the Shepherdsville Baptist Church in Ark in Gloucester County, saw how food distribution in that county was very well organized throughout the county. He wondered if he could get such a program set up in King William so he contacted people in Gloucester for information.

Obey parking rules, respect nature at Virginia natural area preserves

RICHMOND — Many Virginia natural area preserves have experienced high numbers of visitors over the last several weeks.

The Virginia Department of Conservation and Recreation's Natural Heritage Program manages these special lands to protect habitat for rare plants and animals, as well as unique, often delicate natural communities. About one-third of the 64 natural area preserves have public-access facilities such as hiking trails. A few have hand-carry canoe and kayak launches.

Natural area preserves differ from Virginia State Parks and have very small parking areas for 10 or so vehicles.

Because of overuse, these natural area preserves are now closed to public access:

- The Channels Natural Area Preserve in Washington and Russell counties (closed through at least June 10)

- Buffalo Mountain Natural Area Preserve in Roanoke County (closed through at least June 10)

- Bull Run Mountains Natural Area Preserve in Fauquier and Prince William counties, owned by the Virginia Outdoors Foundation (closed until further notice)

"During these challenging times, we want to keep natural area preserves open to the public," Natural Heritage Program

Director Jason Bulluck said. "We greatly need the help of our visitors to use these special places appropriately, so they remain available for the public to respect, appreciate and enjoy."

Anyone planning to visit a natural area preserve should:

- Check www.dcr.virginia.gov/natural-heritage/nap-covid-19 before leaving home for the latest information on closures.

- Have alternate plans in case the small parking area is full upon arrival. Parking areas hold only 10 or so vehicles. If it's full, visitors should wait for a space to open, act on their alternate plan or come back later. Do not park elsewhere.

- Stay on marked trails. Going off trails causes erosion and damages fragile and rare plants DCR works to protect.

- Leave no trace. Dogs must be on leash. Take your trash and pet waste with you when you leave. Use the restroom before leaving home. Preserves are not equipped with restrooms and do not have trash receptacles.

- Continue practicing social distancing. No groups greater than 10 are permitted. If you're sick, stay home. All preserves are routinely monitored by staff and local law enforcement.

Safety

By Allen Brintley and "Pip"

There's this nice lady that I know that has always wanted to try horseback riding. She had never taken any lessons or even been on a horse before. She told me a story about her first riding experience.

One day she just decides to give it a try and jumps on this horse without any help and immediately the horse springs into action. It gallops along at a steady pace and she begins to bounce out of control in the saddle. She tries to grab hold of the horse's mane but loses her grip. She decides to try and wrap her arms around the horse's neck to keep from falling. The horse is steadily galloping as she comes out of the saddle and starts to slide down his side. Finally she leaps away from the horse to try and throw herself to safety. Unfortunately her foot has become entangled in the stirrup. She is now at the mercy of the horse's pounding hooves as her head is struck against the ground over and over. As her head is battered against the ground, she is mere moments away from unconsciousness when to her great fortune the department store manager sees her and unplugs the ride.

I was just joking with you to get a point across that we all should think about safety when riding. Things can and will happen unexpectedly when dealing with animals. They can bump into you and knock you down or step on you. A good set of boots and a riding helmet can help with safety.

I would like to hear from you. Call me at 690-7870 or email Allen@TwinRiversRealty.com. See you on the trails.

"Pick Me Up" Jars

Nathan Cunningham, Addie Johnson, Megan Jernigan

Usually the bandits wear the masks, but not here! It's all good! King William High School Student, Addie Johnson (center) is shown presenting VCU's Department of Patient Centered Services Manager, Nathan Cunningham (left) and Program Coordinator, Megan Jernigan (right) with 110 "Pick Me Up" jars filled with sweet treats attached to words of thanks, kindness and encouragement. She and her friends, Haley Robinson, Campbell Longest, Kayley Mitchell, Maci Mitchell, Lauryn Kelchner, Taylor Johnson and Maddie Stover wanted to do something to show their support of COVID19 crisis. The colorfully decorated jars were given to three nursing units with high COVID populations. Nathan said "The team absolutely loved the jars. Our Chief Nursing Officer holds weekly digital "Town Halls" with all of nursing. On the last Town Hall she displayed one of the jars and actually opened it to read some of the extraordinarily kind messages Addie and her colleagues put into each individual piece of candy." Kudos to those young ladies! Anyone else wanting to help VCU is encouraged to contact the Department of Patient Centered Services by emailing megan.jernigan@vcuhealth.org.

With assistance from the Gloucester County Emergency Management Coordinator and Pastor Steven Burrell of the Feeding Ministry of Gleaning Baptist Church in Gloucester, he found that he could get meats and produce from Food Lion in Gloucester.

In doing research in King William to get this program started, he contacted all the local churches in the county and the Department of Social Services. Most churches agreed to help, either with participation in collecting food or being a pickup site. Each pastor was asked to provide words of inspiration that would be printed and placed in each "Bag of Blessings".

During the week of May 9 - 16, food items were collected and brought to Colosse, which would be a central location. With the help of Coordinators Regina Gresham and Rhonda Redman, and volunteers over 200 bags were packed from local donations, an additional 100 bags from Feed More, an additional 125 bags from Broadus/Hebron, plus large #10 cans of fruit, diapers, toilet paper, and baby formula. Rev. Riley and a friend with a pickup made three trips to the Food Lion in Gloucester to pick up produce and meats, such as pork chops, bacon, and chicken.

On May 16, from 3 - 5 p.m. vehicles drove through church parking lots, and West Point Fire Station, stopped while a volunteer loaded their groceries, and then the driver drove off. At day's end over 300 "Bags of

Packed bags awaiting homes

Blessings" were distributed.

When asked why he would take on such a monumental task, Rev. Riley stated, "The only answer I can give is found in a Chinese saying that goes: 'If you want happiness for an hour, take a nap. If you want happiness for a day, go fishing. If you want happiness for a year, inherit a fortune. If you want happiness for a lifetime, help somebody.' And if this small project was able to help somebody, then my life and services to God was not in vain."

Pastor Riley stated, "I would like to thank everyone who gave of their time and energy to make this a success. This was indeed a team effort and so many helped and worked tirelessly that it would be impossible to mention anyone by name so I say, "THANK YOU AND GOD BLESS YOU ALL."

Three Rivers Health District Updates Residents

COVID-19 Status as Phase 1 Begins

May 16th - Today, the number of deaths nationally is over 87,595 and rising, with over 1.4 million cases. In Virginia, we have 29,683 cases, 3,724 hospitalizations and 1002 deaths. "In Three Rivers, we have 367 cases with 6 deaths. New cases in our communities, not counting outbreaks, appear at the rate of several a day," said Dr. Richard Williams, Three Rivers Health District director. "Our hospital capacity continues to be in good shape across the state, about 21% of ventilators are currently in use and the number of patients hospitalized with positive COVID 19 tests are stable. However, the virus is still present in our communities, the majority of us remain susceptible to infection, and the risk of transmission remains very real."

The coronavirus that causes COVID-19 can cause mild to more severe illness. The virus continues to display a wide range of pathologic effects. This week there was a rise of a syndrome in young people now known as "Multisystem Inflammatory Syndrome in Children (MIS-C) associated with COVID 19." The CDC published a Health Alert Network notification on this syndrome yesterday. This syndrome was first described in late April in the United Kingdom, in early May in New York, and in other countries as well.

In Three Rivers, we are coordinating a community-testing event in Middlesex County with the Virginia Air National Guard, which we hope to hold in June. We plan to follow this up with a testing event on the Northern Neck. This testing effort will be conducted in conjunction with robust case investigation, isolation and quarantine efforts. Those containment activities will be our primary line of defense and protection against this disease. Going forward, we hope to coordinate regular regional testing events to help us to understand and track the level of disease in our communities as we go through the process of re-opening businesses.

We will continue working closely with local government officials to inform them of viral transmission levels in their communities as we begin Phase 1 of re-opening. Dr. Williams advises that during Phase 1 we continue our social distancing measures, wear cloth face coverings when we go out in public, continue washing our hands, sanitizing surfaces, maintaining at least 6 feet of distance from others, and avoiding large groups to avoid a surge in cases.

"Masking in public will be particularly important to prevent the spread of this virus from people with no symptoms," he said. "It is important to realize that by wearing a face covering, we are protecting all those around us. This disease is a threat to all of us, including our children and grandchildren."

Remember, if you are sick at all, even if your symptoms do not feel like COVID 19, stay at home and consult your health care provider. The virus can masquerade as many other diseases, and can fool us all. Difficulty breathing remains a sign of possible serious disease; if this develops, seek help very quickly.

Three Rivers Health District has activated a public information line, 804-313-1638, for questions from residents about the novel coronavirus situation.

Please consult www.vdh.virginia.gov/ for the latest number of COVID-19 cases in Virginia.

Here's an osprey that has taken an American Flag and incorporated it into its nest. Stacie Viars from King and Queen county wanted to share this photo of an osprey's nest in Dunnsville. She stated, "We have laughed and gazed in awe over this for days and thought we would share this as much as we could because it is just baffling to us that this actually happened and for it to happen right now. It's just amazing!"

Man Killed in Single Vehicle Crash

King & Queen County

Virginia

KING AND QUEEN- On May 12, (Tuesday) at 12:14 p.m., the Virginia State Police responded to a single vehicle crash with a confirmed fatality at Route 617, .10 miles west of Route 607.

The trooper's preliminary investigation reveals a 1998 Ford F 250 driven by Michael M. Cummings, 65, of King and Queen, VA., was traveling east on Route 617 when he ran off road right, over corrected back onto roadway, then ran off road left. Cummings then struck several trees overturning the vehicle onto its roof.

Cummings was wearing his seatbelt. Unfortunately, Cummings succumbed to his injuries and died at the scene.

The crash remains under investigation.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Brace Yourself for Tax Increases

It should come as no surprise to voters in the 5th district that the newly elected Republicrat board of supervisors unanimously voted to increase your real estate tax during its April virtual meeting, since I foretold of this while campaigning. After 4 years of declining taxes, the average home owner (based on ~$180,000) will see an increased theft of about $39/year once re-assessment kicks in.

To make it even more subliminal, the board voted to phase the increase.. In my 30 years in KW County, I don't recall ever seeing this; but, they split the fiscal year which means this impact will occur in calendar year 2021. Furthermore, this is the first time in 9 years the board of supervisors unanimously ratified a tax change (even Otto Williams had enough conviction to say "no" during his tenure 8 years ago).

Had it not been for covid-19 (and attempt to save face) homeowners would have seen this board implement a tremendous reversal of the last 4 years. Rest assured with a unanimous vote they will be coming after your wallets next year in full force.

I take no joy in saying "I told you so" but shame on you to all the sheeple who were misled by Ed Moren and his last minute addition to the grandiose signs... He spared no effort in spending his own/PAC money and now he's already spending YOUR money (without the gonads to say "no" after his campaign promise)!

Folks like: Coleman, Spurlock, Robinson, Gaines, Greene, Cranmer, Anderson, Healey Wright, Downing, Jones, Burch, Trueheart, etc. and all the citizens of King William living in places such as: Corinth Heights, Cedar Crest, Parkwood, Cherry Hill, Woodruff, Manquin Farms, etc. will be paying more tax!

Conversely, others with names such as: Mills, Wagner, Hubbard, Dykes, Lee, Gwathmey, and Moren all benefitted and/or preserved their financial status... If you happen to see them around, please "thank them" for contributing to your increased taxation & Moren's deception.

Sincerely,

Bob Ehrhart

Mangohick District Resident

Bay Aging launches new Mobile Food Pantry service

Initiative aims to help address both public health and economic consequences of COVID-19 crisis

Urbanna - Bay Aging's Helping Neighbors initiative is now in its third week and enrollment in the free hot-meal delivery service continues to increase. Volunteers across the Middle Peninsula and Northern Neck are delivering over 14,000 hot meals a week prepared by seventeen local restaurants to area seniors and individuals with underlying health conditions who want to stay in their homes during the COVID-19 crisis. "We are absolutely thrilled by the community support that 'Helping Neighbors' has generated," said Kathy Vesley, President and CEO of Bay Aging. "We are also happy that so many of the region's hard-hit local restaurants have been able to take part in Helping Neighbors as it provides much needed revenue for them."

To provide additional services with both public health and economic stimulus benefits, Bay Aging has launched a new "Mobile Food Pantry" program delivering shelf-stable groceries, sourced from local grocery stores and the Healthy Harvest Food Bank to area seniors who are sheltering at home. In the Mobile Food Pantry's first week of operation, 250 bags of groceries were delivered to the residents of Bay Aging's senior apartments across the region.

In Urbanna, thirty-seven bags of groceries were purchased from the Urbanna IGA Market and delivered to the residents of Bay Aging's Port Town Village senior apartments. Harry and Becky Bullock, owners of the Urbanna IGA, were happy to take part in the initiative. "The stay at home order as well as the delayed opening of the Bethpage Camp-Resort has definitely impacted our business," Mr. Bullock said. "We appreciate the order from Bay Aging and love the fact that these groceries were given to some of the town's neediest residents."

In Warsaw, Bay Aging staff sorted, bagged and delivered 213 bags of groceries purchased from Healthy Harvest Food Bank (HHFB). HHFB also donated 250 loaves of bread in support of the initiative. "We really appreciate the support we received from Craig Hazzard and the rest of the team at Healthy Harvest Food Bank," said Jennifer Beck, Bay Aging's Director of Community Living Programs, who is spearheading the Mobile Food Pantry initiative. "Obviously, their new building is designed for marshalling and distributing food, which made it a lot easier for us to bag up and load the groceries into Bay Transit buses."

Increased food insecurity is an unfortunate byproduct of the COVID-19 crisis and the Mobile Food Pantry and Helping Neighbors programs are just two of the initiatives Bay Aging has launched in response to the COVID-19 crisis. "We plan to expand Mobile Food Pantry deliveries over the next several weeks by enrolling additional seniors and local grocery stores into the program," said Bay Aging's Kathy Vesley. "We still have a lot of work to do to ensure area residents are safe and well fed while contending with these challenging times. Fortunately, we already have the transportation infrastructure in place through Bay Transit to efficiently manage grocery distribution over such a large, ten county area."

For more information about Bay Aging's Mobile Food Pantry program, or to volunteer or donate, please visit Bay Aging's website at www.bayaging.org.

For those without access to the internet, please call Bay Aging at 1-800-493-0238.

Annual Drinking Water Quality Report

CENTRAL GARAGE WATER SYSTEM

INTRODUCTION

This Annual Drinking Water Quality Report for calendar year 2019 is designed to inform you about your drinking water quality. Our goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water, and we want you to understand the efforts we make to protect your water supply. The quality of your drinking water must meet state and federal requirements administered by the Virginia Department of Health (VDH).

If you have questions about this report, want additional information about any aspect of your drinking water, or want to know how to participate in decisions that may affect the quality of your drinking water, please contact:

Brian L. Purvis
180 Horse Landing Road, Suite #4 King William, Va. 23086
(804) 769-4962

GENERAL INFORMATION

Drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Contaminants that may be present in source water include: (1) Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.

(2) Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming. (3) Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agricultural, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses. (4) Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are byproducts of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems. (5) Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the results of oil and gas production and mining activities. To ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations, which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which must provide the same protection for public health.

WATER QUALITY RESULTS

I. Lead and Copper C

Contaminant	Units of Measurement	Action Level	MCLG	Results of samples for the 90 th Percentile Value	Action Level Exceedance (Y/N)	Month of Sampling	# of Sampling Sites Exceeding Action Level	Typical Source of Contamination
Lead	ppb	15	0	ND	N	August 2019	0	Corrosion of household plumbing systems; Erosion of natural deposits.
Copper	ppm	1.3	1.3	0.07	N	August 2019	0	Corrosion of household plumbing systems; Erosion of natural deposits.

"If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Central Garage Water System is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 15 to 30 seconds or until it becomes cold or reaches a steady temperature before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>".

SOURCE(S) and TREATMENT OF YOUR DRINKING WATER

The source(s) of your drinking water is/are () surface water (X) groundwater as described below: This waterworks system is serviced by two groundwater wells located in the McCauley Park and Kennington Subdivisions.

Is there any treatment of your drinking water supply? (X) Yes () No If yes, it is described below: The water is treated with chlorine to prevent bacteriological growth in the distribution system.

The Virginia Department of Health conducted a source water assessment of our system during 2019. Both wells received a low rating of susceptibility to contamination, using criteria developed by the State in its EPA-approved Source Water Assessment Program. The assessment report consists of maps showing the source water assessment area, an inventory of known land use activities of concern, and documentation of any known contamination within the last 5 years from the date of the assessment. The report is available by contacting Mr. Purvis at the phone number or address given elsewhere in this drinking water quality report.

DEFINITIONS

Contaminants in your drinking water are routinely monitored according to Federal and State regulations. The table on the next few pages shows the results of our monitoring for calendar year 2018. In the tables and elsewhere in this report you will find many terms and abbreviations you might not be familiar with. The following definitions are provided to help you better understand these terms:

Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/l) - one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter - one part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - picocuries per liter is a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

Maximum Contaminant Level, or MCL - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal, or MCLG - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant level (MRDL) - The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

We constantly monitor for various contaminants in the water supply to meet all regulatory requirements. The table lists only those contaminants that had some level of detection. Many other contaminants have been analyzed but were not present or were below the detection limits of the lab equipment.

The state allows us to monitor for some contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants do not change frequently. Some of our data, though accurate, is more than one year old.

Other drinking water constituents you may be interested in are as follows:

The sodium concentration from the Kennington well from a sample collected on June 14, 2017 was 68.6 mg/l. The sodium concentration from the McCauley Park well from a sample collected on March 13, 2019 was 67 mg/l. The recommended maximum contaminant level is 20 mg/l for persons on a "strict" sodium diet.

MCL's are set at very stringent levels by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. In developing the standards EPA assumes that the average adult drinks 2 liters of water each day throughout a 70-year life span. EPA generally sets MCLs at levels that will result in no adverse health effects for some contaminants or a one-in-ten-thousand to one-in-a-million chance of having the described health effect for other contaminants.

VIOLATION INFORMATION

We are proud to report this water system did not receive any violations in 2019.
