W.R. "ROB" Balderson King and Queen County Sheriff Announces Candidacy for Election

It is with great pleasure and honor that I announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of King and Queen County. My 24 years of experience with the King and Queen County Sheriff's Office, where I have climbed through the ranks, gives me unquestionable knowledge of the department and our citizens.

I am a graduate of Essex County High School and attended J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College where I received an Associates of Science Degree in Administration of Justice. I later went on to attend Liberty University where I received a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice.

My experience at the sheriff's office has been in patrol, school resource officer, DARE officer, criminal investigator, narcotics investigator, lieutenant, and, for the last 13 years, chief deputy. I have developed many programs and overseen the daily operations of the sheriff's office. Since January 1, 2023, I have been serving as your Sheriff and continue to implement many community-based programs.

King and Queen Elementary School (KQES), built in 1937, formerly known as Pleasant Hill High School will no longer exist after this fall as it is today. Students will be relocated to a site with modulars for the school year (2023-2024) while a new building is built.

The Class of 1988 and 1992 buried time capsules when they were 7th graders before being promoted to the 8th grade to Central High School. The now "adults" came to KQES and dug up their capsules. Inside the capsule were letters students wrote to themselves, a program of the promotion ceremony, Richmond Times newspaper clipping, cassette tape and VHS tapes.

Publisher's Message

I'm writing this from the VA Hospital, having my regular check up and waiting to see my doctor. I hope everyone had an enjoyable, safe 4th holiday. So many men and women served this great nation to allow us to have that privilege. We don't know them all, but we owe them all.

Take care until next time.

Hot and Humid

By Allen Brintley and "Pip"

The weather lately has been pretty hot. With the temperatures and humidity in the 90's, Pip and I both can just stand in the shade and sweat. I guess it's just that time of year for it. It does create some things to be aware of. It's easy for your animal to get overheated. Make sure they have plenty of fresh water and a shady spot or a cover from the sun. Also, trying to get fly spray to stay on Pip and not get washed off by sweat or occasional rain. I did see some fly spray that says it is sweat and water-resistant. It reminds me of that hairspray women use called water-net or aqua-net or something. You know that kind that keeps their hair in place even in a hurricane. My Granddad use to tell me to be careful about getting something that soap and water won't wash off. I'll have to check into that new fly spray a little closer and may give it a try.

There was a little old lady that heard a noise out front of her house one hot summer day. She looked out the front door to see a young boy had run a hay wagon in the ditch and turned it over in her front yard. It was so hot, she called to him and said "Young man, take a break and come get something cool to drink." The little boy said "Thanks just the same, but I need to get this hay wagon upright or my Pa is going to be upset." She said "Nonsense. It's so hot outside, your Pa won't be upset if you take a few minutes and rest in the shade." The little boy said "Yes ma'am he will. My Pa will be very upset if I don't hurry and get this hay wagon back upright." The little old lady said "I don't understand. Where is your Pa?" The little boy said "Under the wagon!"

You can email me at Allen@TwinRiversRealty.com or call 690-7870. I'll see you on the trails.

Central Garage - A Name that Makes Sense

By Gene Campbell

Ever wonder how Central Garage got its name? Well, when you stop and think about it, the way it got its name makes sense. When automobiles started appearing in the early 1900s, garages began to appear to take care of automobiles. One such garage was built at the intersection of old Rt 360 (now Rt 662) and Rt 30. The location of this garage was near the center of the county, therefore the name Central Garage. It also was located about halfway between the towns on the roads that crossed each other here. These garages were very important because motorists could expect something with their automobiles to go wrong every thirty miles or so. Prior to the garage being built, this area of the county was known as Sharon Church due to the fact Sharon Baptist Church (built in 1845 from bricks brought in from Richmond from another church by horse/buggy.... a future story?) was located several hundred yards from the intersection. However, after the garage was built and established, the area became known as Central Garage. At one time there was a movement to rename the area Sharon, Va. because some people thought the name Central Garage was not very flattering. The movement was not successful.

Central Garage as it was in the early 1900s

The original garage still stands today. It is located behind and just to the right of the store. As best as I can determine the garage and store was built in the early 1900s. Besides a garage, it has been many things over the years, namely a restaurant, a dance hall, a sandwich/candy shop, and an antique store. It was a regular stop for soldiers going back to Norfolk during World War II. Also, directly behind the store is a small house now covered in vines.

KW County Tax Sale Brings in More Than $208,000 Will Place Eleven Properties Back on the Active Tax Rolls

PRESS RELEASE

The King William County Treasurer's Office conducted a public auction of tax delinquent properties on May 30, 2023, contracting to sell the properties to the highest bidders. These properties had at least three years of real property taxes overdue.

The sale was very well attended. It was conducted in the King William County Board Room, with 8 bidders registered in person. The auction, held by the law firm of Taxing Authority Consulting Services, P.C. (TACS), was also simulcast for internet bidding, which drew an additional 117 bidders.

The auction brought in a total of $208,000.00 from the 6 parcels sold, said County Treasurer Abbi Carlton. These judicial sale properties sold require further confirmation by the Circuit Court before deeds can be conveyed. The highest price for a parcel was $108,500, and the lowest was $12,800.

In many cases, the record owners of the property were deceased, and there was no consensus among heirs to pay the taxes and redeem the properties.

The total outstanding taxes due on the parcels sold was over $55,900. The excess funds, after paying the taxes, fees, and the costs of sale, will be held by the Circuit Court for two years and those funds can be claimed by the owners or their heirs during that time. If the funds are not fully claimed, the remaining excess proceeds will be deposited into the County's General Fund.

"All of the properties that sold went for significantly more than the county's taxes and the costs of the sale," Carlton said, "And it was great that we were able to have so many people participate online."

In addition, over $85,500 was collected prior to the sale, as several property owners finally paid off the taxes due to keep their property from the sale. "There were four parcels redeemed before the sale began," Carlton said.

The Treasurer has retained TACS, a law firm focusing its practice in representing local governments, to handle the legal requirements to bring these properties to sale. The next auction is likely to be conducted sometime this winter.

Central Garage Today

I am told the Krevonick family once lived there while running the store. I remember the store as a sandwich/candy store. The Krevonick family ran it when I was in high school in the 1960s. I remember old colored bottles lining the window sills. My father bought the store in 1985 from Doris Krevonick to house his antiques. My mother told him he had to find a place to house his antiques because he had filled up the homeplace, The Grove! Mrs. Krevonick lived in the white cinder block house that once stood where Tractor Supply is now. Doris's husband John was in my father's 1941 graduating class at King William High School. They had a son, Jay, who was in my 1968 graduating class at King William High School. My research shows the Krevonicks purchased the store and land from Mr. B. W. Longest in 1938. Before B. W. Longest's ownership my great-grandfather, T. C. Commins (my mother's grandfather), owned the property. He bought it from Charles Kelley in 1923. He also bought property across the street (Rt 30) and donated part of the property for the site of the old King William High School which was completed in 1925. It was originally called Central High School. My great-grandfather was an ardent supporter of the schools in the county and he entertained hopes of seeing the school develop into a great community center. Mr. Kelley, I assume, was part of the Kelley family just up the road (Kelley's Lane). Mr. Kelley obtained the land which was 75 acres at the time from Mr. W. D. Rouzie who purchased it in 1902.

My father did some renovations to the store after he bought it. In 1989 he opened his antique shop. On Saturday and Sunday from 1 – 5 pm he opened his shop or museum as some people liked to call it. He didn't care if he sold anything or not, he just enjoyed people stopping by 'to shoot the breeze.' My father's friend, Joe Lunceford, who ran the transfer station or 'dump' just beyond the high school would often call my father and say "Dick, someone just brought something in here you might be interested in!"

My family has had several connections to this property over the past 100 years. First, my great-grandfather bought it in 1923, my father bought it in 1985 and the last connection, strangely enough, in the picture above you can see a sign pointing to a ferry which I believe is the ferry that once existed on the Mattaponi River.... where I now live! A side note about my great-grandfather, T. C. Commins. He was a member of the 109th Virginia General Assembly representing King William County and parts of Hanover County. He also was an alternate delegate from Virginia to the 1920 Democratic National Convention in San Francisco.

Special THANKS to Karen Wallace who works at the Circuit Court Clerk's office, for her help in obtaining some of the information for this article. Also, I want to say THANKS to my cousin Michael Commins for the information about my great-grandfather.

Ryland was diagnosed with Myoclonic Epilepsy in January of this year. In the last six months he has undergone many tests, doctors visits, and medication changes. He currently still has 2-3 seizures a day and struggles to communicate his needs and feelings as he can not talk.

Despite all of his set backs he still has the sweetest smile and lets you know how he feels about a situation with the perfect facial expression. He loves playing outside around his family farm and has a special love for all the animals that live there. He has been approved for a service dog through the wonderful organization 4 Paws for Ability. They will train a service dog for his specific needs: Seizure Alert, Behavior Disruption and Tethering/Tracking.

Animal Spotlight

Baxter is a rescue who was found running the streets of Charlotte, NC still dragging a leash. His owner was never found so he came to Virginia to live on my farm. Baxter is named after the dog in the movie Anchorman. He has not been punted off a bridge, but he has managed to lose a leg and his tail in separate incidents. It doesn't seem to slow him down.

Baxter is now a senior dog who spends most of his time lounging around with his animal friends.
