Christmas Shopping Through the Eyes of a Child

Oakley Clarke admires the gifts

By Gene Campbell

Christmas is a magical time of the year, filled with wonder and joy. No one experiences this magic more intensely than children. Since 2017 Tammy Boyer and her sister Kathy Adams along with a merry group of volunteers/elves have worked their magic to turn the King William Ruritan Building into The Christmas Elf Cottage the first weekend of December. Kathy Holliday of Twin Rivers Realty donated the first $500 to the event in 2017. The Ruritan building becomes a Christmas Wonderland for kids 15 and under to shop for gifts while mom and dad relax and enjoy complimentary refreshments, hot beverages, and even some cookies made by ole Rudolph himself! All the proceeds benefit the American Cancer Society. As of this writing proceeds from Friday and Saturday total $7,513 and money is still coming in.

It was a magical experience walking through the decorated building Saturday morning. There were rows and rows of tables filled with gifts. Volunteers dressed as elves were busy helping the children find the perfect gift for mom and dad, even grandpa and grandma.

Tribes Gather at the State Capital for Time Honored Tradition

Mattaponi and Pamunkey Indian Tribes present tax tribute

By Gene Campbell

For those of us living in King William County, the celebration of Thanksgiving begins with a ceremony the day before Thanksgiving Day. For 346 years the Mattaponi and Pamunkey Indian tribes have presented to the Governor an annual tribute of game as part of a ceremony that dates back to treaties signed in 1646 and 1677.

Donald Moren Celebrates 90 Years of Country Living!

By Gene Campbell

In 1933, a brand-new automobile would set you back $860, gas was 10 cents a gallon, a dozen eggs was 12 cents and a loaf of bread was 6 cents. This was also the year drive-in movie theaters were introduced in the United States. Tickets were priced at 25 cents per car and an additional 25 cents per person in the car (excluding the ones in the trunk!). More on drive-in theaters later. On November 23rd, 1933, Donald Trice Moren was born in King William County. His parents were Matilda and Joseph Moren of Duane located off Herring Creek Road in the upper part of King William County. Joseph farmed and did carpentry work and tended to a country store they owned. Matilda also tended to the store and was postmistress of the Duane Post Office located in their store. Donald had four brothers and three sisters, namely Joe, Helen, Louis, Betty, Warren, Edwin, and Tilly. In all there were twelve children born to Matilda and Joseph Moren, sadly, four did not survive long after birth. Fast forward to November 19, 2023, family and friends gathered to celebrate Donald's 90th birthday and reminisce about the "good ole days."

I have known Donald all my life. They don't come any better! His family were very good friends with my family. Born and raised in King William County, Donald has always stayed close to home, still living in the same house his father built. He graduated from King William High School in 1953 and even drove a school bus for three years to earn some spending money. Unlike his four brothers, Donald did not join the military but often wonders "what if?" if he had.

Please see MOREN, continued on page 14.

Publisher's Message

I hope everyone had a blessed Thanksgiving. There is so much to be thankful for. If you haven't finished your Christmas shopping yet, don't worry. There are plenty of shops and stores in our area that have something for everyone on your list. Take a moment to slow down, breathe, and catch the holiday spirit. Remember the true reason for the season.

Take care until next time.

Radar Ears

By Allen Brintley and "Pip"

I learned early on to trust Pip's long ears. When she was young, I used to play a game and try to sneak up on her. It's almost impossible with those long ears. She doesn't miss a thing. It's like she has radar or something. Now whenever she stops and looks in a certain direction, I wait patiently and after a few minutes, out walks a deer or a dog or something. When I'm working around the pasture or barn, Pip is right there in the middle of whatever I'm doing. She thinks I need her help to fix or cleanup something. The other evening, I was cleaning up a little bit of hay and she stops and walks over to the fence and looks up the driveway through the woods. I stopped and listened but didn't hear a car or anything so I went back to work while she stood there at attention. Sure enough, after a couple of minutes, a chicken from up the road came walking out to visit me and Pip. Actually Pip gets all the visitors not me. I don't know how she heard that chicken walking or clucking, but she knew something was coming. I guess it was one of those free ranging chickens. Here's a little joke about kids and chickens.

Two farm boys meet on a dusty old country road. One of them is carrying a big bag labeled Chickens. "Chickens, huh?" The older boy says. "Hey if i guess how many chickens you got in that bag, will you give me one?" The younger boy replied "heck, iff in you guess right, I'll give you all three of them."

You can email me at Allen@TwinRiversRealty.com or call 690-7870. I'll see you on the trails.

A Fun Day at the King & Queen Courthouse Tavern Museum

By Gene Campbell

I attended the Annual Holiday Open House at the King & Queen Courthouse Museum this past Sunday. It was a wonderful event that had something for people of all ages. Santa Claus made a special appearance, listening to the children's Christmas wishes and taking pictures with them. It was a magical experience for the kids, and Santa made sure to write down their requests to take back to his workshop at the North Pole. After meeting with Santa, the children had the chance to decorate cookies and play games. They let their creativity run wild as they decorated cookies with icing and various toppings. The smiles on their faces as they proudly displayed their creations were priceless. The games added an extra element of fun, keeping the children entertained and engaged throughout the event. Even the adults were entertained by the antics of the children.

Outside the atmosphere was festive, with popcorn and funnel cakes available. Nearby was the opportunity for the children to pet and feed two ponies. The children's faces lit up with excitement as they connected with these beautiful animals. It was a wonderful way for the children to experience the joy of being close to nature. Inside the museum, the adults had the chance to view the many exhibits that told the history of King & Queen County. The collection of artifacts and displays showcased the skills and techniques of earlier generations providing a deeper appreciation for the past. The museum was decorated with old time decorations creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. We are very fortunate to live in an area such as King & Queen and King William Counties where history is all around us.

The day ended with the lighting of the Christmas tree. Everyone gathered around the tree as the lights were turned on. The day was a perfect blend of history, food, and holiday cheer. If you haven't visited the museum, I highly recommend you to. You will not be disappointed!

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

degradation of the river's health

The Mattaponi and Pamunkey Rivers Association (MPRA) was formed almost 30 years ago because our local rivers needed a voice. Our organization, along with Save the Mattaponi, fought for twenty years to protect the rivers from the inter-basin transfer of water. Newport News wanted to take water from the Mattaponi River, pump it to a reservoir to be built in the Pamunkey River watershed, then send it to Newport News. The city greatly overestimated their water needs throughout the process. After environmental impact statements were completed and twenty years of meetings and studies between agencies ended, it was finally defeated.

Since that time, MPRA has focused on making citizens aware of the value of these rivers by connecting people to them through leading kayak trips, river clean ups, environmental education, and stewardship projects. It is now time for our organization to speak for the river once again.

MPRA has become aware that there is a plan for Caroline County to pump water from the Rappahannock River in a 45-mile pipeline to Carmel Church and Ladysmith. This area is in the I-95 corridor where residential housing and businesses are growing, and three large industrial projects have been proposed. The wastewater from the project will empty into Polecat Creek which is a small tributary of the Mattaponi. The inflow could go from 7.9 million gallons a day (mgd) or 12.2 cubic feet per second (cfs) to 13.9 mgd or 21.4 cfs (Hazen 2023). Our concern is the possible degradation of the river's health due to high level flows. The stream's velocity is projected to increase by 22% (Hazen 2023). This could greatly affect the physical dynamics of the river in the headwaters by destabilizing the stream bank and increasing nutrient and sediment deposition which create turbid conditions. Turbidity impacts a fish's ability to breath if sediment becomes trapped in their gills, and clouds sunlight from reaching submerged aquatic vegetation. Additional nutrients increase the probability of harmful algae blooms (HABs) which decrease oxygen in the water as the algae dies off. The Mattaponi River has 8 sub watersheds within itself that are deemed impaired by the Department of Environmental Quality due to E. coli. We are greatly concerned that this project will further reduce the health of our watershed and counter all efforts to reach water quality goals.

Economic development has been the impetus of this plan; however, economics should not be the only focus. Carefully planned development and careful consideration of its effects to our environment are vital. Obviously, all Virginia citizens need water, but we need measured growth that will not destroy our rivers. It is becoming profoundly important for us to plan for future clean water and protect our rivers from ourselves.

Audrey Mitchell,
MPRA President

Thank You

Words cannot express my love and gratitude for the surprise Appreciation Celebration held for me on October 21, 2023. The celebration was given by the King William High School Class of 1971 and hosted by the Victorious Daughters of Royalty Women's Ministry of St. Paul Baptist Church in Aylett, VA where Reverend Kim Bullock is Pastor. I was crowned "Woman of the Year" and I will strive to serve with grace and humility. It was truly an evening of elegance. The music was beautiful, the speaker was dynamic, the dinner was scrumptious and the expressions brought back memories from my teaching days: August 1962 to June 2000. I started at Hamilton Holmes High School in 1962 and went on to teach at King William High School from August 1969 until June 2000. Thank you for your attendance, words of expression, the beautiful cards and flowers, plaques, monetary donations, balloons, goodie bags and everything that you did to make the program so special and beautiful! I will always remember and cherish this day. Thank you Deacon Brenda Pollard and Della R. Johnson for spearheading this day. Also thank you to the rest of the class of 1971 for reaching out to all of the other classes as you all did a superb job. Thank you to all of the classes that responded.

Graciously Submitted,

Community Pride Day

Contributed

Community Pride Day was rescheduled from October 14th to October 21st this year due to the rain. October 21st proved to be a very sunny day for King and Queen County. There was a huge parade featuring candidates for election, homecoming court, fire trucks, antique cars, and floats from the elementary schools. Vendors lined both sides of Central High School parking lot with bounce house and other games to include face painting. It was truly a community pride day!

Ms. Julia Redd and SMG Howard were recognized at the November School Board for their hard work organizing Community Pride Day. Ms. Redd received a soup tureen as a token of appreciation.

Elf Chesden Resnick helps Natalie Shelley pick out gifts

Kaden Custalow tells Elf Nikki Shelley "I found the perfect gift"

Elves were also standing by to wrap the gifts. I watched the children carefully consider each gift as they thought about what their parents and loved ones would like the most. It was heartwarming to see their faces light up with delight as they made their selections. It's not just about receiving gifts at Christmas, but about the excitement and happiness that comes from choosing something special for someone you love. As I watched the kids, I was reminded of the times my mother took my sisters and me to Miller & Rhoads during Christmas to shop in the Fawn Shop. I am sure there are some of you out there who remember those days!

I couldn't help but feel a sense of gratitude for the volunteers who made this event possible. They spent countless hours creating this magical experience for the children and their families. I also thought about the American Cancer Society and the important work they do. The Christmas Elf Cottage was not only a fun and festive event, but it was also a way to support a very worthy cause. It was a reminder that even during the holiday season, it's important to give back and support those in need. Watching the children and families interacting and chatting with the volunteers also reminded me that the holiday season is not just about the gifts, but about the love and connection we have with one another. Christmas through a child's eyes reminds us of the beauty and wonder that still exists. It is a reminder to embrace the joy and innocence of childhood, to believe in the extraordinary, and to cherish the magic that surrounds us during this special time of the year.

As I left the Christmas Elf Cottage, I had a renewed sense of gratitude and appreciation for the holiday season. It's easy to get caught up in the hustle and bustle of shopping, but let us not forget the true meaning of Christmas, the birth of our Savior Jesus Christ.

Moren, continued

Although he was too young for World War II, he did volunteer along with his father as a plane spotter for the Aircraft Warning Service. They trained to identify and report enemy planes, contributing to the war effort in their own way. Donald's father passed away when he was 16 years old, leaving him and his brothers to continue the family farming. As time moved on, Donald took over the family farming and spent his entire life working and expanding the family farm. His first tractor was an Oliver and he still owns one that is in use today. In 1956 his sister, Tilley, told him "I got a gal for you" and introduced him to Margaret, the woman who would become the love of his life. On their first date, being the farmer he was, he took her to a Corn, Soybean, and Pasture Club Dance in the old Community Building at King William High School. Two years later he married Margaret, and they spent 64 wonderful years together on the family farm until her passing in December of last year. Donald farmed into his 80s, retiring in 2014.

Donald's quick wit and love for pranks have always kept his family and friends on their toes. Whether it's a cleverly timed joke or a well-executed prank, Donald knows how to bring laughter and joy to any gathering. As mentioned above, drive-in theaters were popular during Donald's youth and one opened in Aylett. My uncle, Beverly Commins, and John Farmer (who married Donald's sister Tilley) were good friends in those days. Uncle Beverly told me they would take turns hiding in the trunk of the car before entering the driveway. One can't help but wonder if Donald was ever a participant in those playful antics. Beyond his mischievous side, Donald is also known for his willingness to help others and his appreciation for the kindness shown to him. He is always the first to offer his assistance in times of need and never hesitates to express his gratitude for the things done for him.

Donald Trice Moren, a dedicated farmer and man of simple pleasures, celebrated his 90th birthday with gratitude for the life he has lived and the love he has experienced. His story serves as a reminder of the value of hard work, family, and the joy found in the simplest of moments. As Donald greeted his well-wishers with his contagious smile, everyone asked him "What is your secret to a long life?" Donald quickly replied, "I grew up in a very loving family and spent 64 years with Margaret, the woman of my dreams!" His answer reflected the importance of love, family, and cherished relationships in his life. Donald Moren with his pranks, gratitude, and zest for life is truly one of a kind.

Donald, the community wishes you ALL THE BEST!!

Tax, continued from front page

In 1677 Pamunkey Chief Cockacoeske (known as Queen of the Pamunkeys) signed the Treaty of the Middle Plantation (Middle Plantation later become known as Williamsburg) recognizing the authority of the British Government with offerings of beaver skins (today it is deer) in lieu of paying taxes. In exchange, the British Government acknowledged the land use and hunting rights of the tribes.

On the morning of November 22nd members of both tribes began gathering at the doorsteps of the Governor's Mansion in Richmond to honor the signing of the treaty and witness the symbolic tax payment to Virginia's Governor Glenn Youngkin. On hand representing the tribes were Mattaponi Chief Mark Custalow and Pamunkey Council member Gordon Atkinson (Pamunkey Chief Bob Gray could not attend). First Lady Suzanne Youngkin, Secretary of the Commonwealth Kelly Gee, Upper Mattaponi Chief Frank Adams, and House of Delegates member Keith Hodges were also in attendance.

In his opening remarks, Governor Youngkin said "Today we honor the ways the Mattaponi and the Pamunkey tribes have shaped the foundation and inspired the spirit of Virginia and our nation." Following Governor Youngkin, Mattaponi

Chief Mark Custalow told the crowd "It is an honor to be here today to continue our relationship with the Commonwealth of Virginia and to continue this tradition which has been ongoing for 346 years." After the opening remarks, two deer (one from each tribe) were presented to the Governor followed by a ceremonial dance from the ladies of the Mattaponi tribe. Both tribes also presented handmade gifts to the Governor and First Lady.

Almost 350 years later this treaty continues to shape and govern the relationship between the Commonwealth and the tribes. It is also a reminder of both the rights of Virginia's tribes and the state's obligations to them.

Celebration of Song, continued

Choir members of McKendree Methodist Church

By Gene Campbell

If you passed by Beulah Baptist Church this past Sunday night, the church walls may have been swaying to the sounds of Christmas hymns. The people inside certainly were. This year marked the 30th anniversary of the King William Celebration of Song to benefit the King William Emergency Ministry. The doors opened at 5 pm and by 6 pm it was hard to find a seat. Ten area churches sent their choirs or individuals to represent them in this much anticipated event to kick off the holiday season. Since the first Celebration of Song in 1993 at Third Union Baptist Church, over $100,000 has been raised to help King William County families with emergency financial needs. It is an all-volunteer organization that provides help with things such as electricity bills, rent, fuel, prescriptions, and more. Churches and individuals participating in the Celebration of Song were Beulah Baptist, Ruby Kate Vincent & Katherine Roberts, Rock Spring Baptist, Colosse Baptist, St. Paul's Episcopal, Broadus Church-Hebron Campus, McKendree Methodist, Third Union & Trinity Baptist, Sharon Baptist, and Providence Baptist Church. The love offering taken at intermission totaled $2,706. Afterward, a reception was held in the Church fellowship hall. If you would like to make a contribution to King William Emergency Ministry please mail your contribution to 934 Garnett's Mill Lane, Walkerton, VA 23177.

MERRY CHRISTMAS EVERYONE!

Holiday Decorating Safety Tips

From Three Rivers Health District Newsletter

While jumping into the holiday spirit may mean putting up trees, lights, candles, and blow-up decorations, safety should also be included in the list. Here are some key tips for safety amongst the holidays.

1. Water real trees daily. Dry trees can burn very easily.
2. Never overload electrical outlets, extension cords or power strips.
3. Always use outdoor cord for exterior lighting.
4. Be sure to turn off or unplug holiday lights when leaving home or going to sleep. Check holiday lights for fraying and excessive kinking.
5. Be careful with candle placement.

6. Never leave candles near flammable decorations or unattended. Use battery operated candles.
6. Avoid sharp, breakable decorations in homes with small children.

Animal Spotlight

The fun part of having rescue animals is sometimes they're food aggressive. Tater Tot grabbed a slab of bacon off of the kitchen counter and took off. I scuffed him and he growled and wouldn't release the tasty treat. I ripped the slab of bacon recovering what I could, and he got to keep the rest.
